U.S. iStrategy

[redacted]

- U.S. General Strategy: The U.S. Strategy, under the iStrategy series, is a portfolio strategy spanning a range of equity exposures across the US, which is non-levered and does not contain significant sector bias and seeks to attract income and outperformance versus the underlying benchmark.
- Designed to Provide Income with Less Volatility: The strategy is focused on carefully managing risk levels through dynamic asset selection.

Current Allocation

Investment Strategy

This investment strategy seeks alpha-generated income, coupled with a long-term capital appreciation. It invests in a diversified portfolio of individual equity securities in the United States.

Selecting this strategy typically entails a portfolio turnover of 100% per year, though it may exceed this rate in certain years. This turnover indicates changes in positions and/or instruments within the portfolio.

The principal risks of the strategy are equity risk, foreign/international markets risk, foreign currency risk, sovereign risk, and portfolio investing in multiple countries. More detailed information on this strategy is available upon request.

12-month Return:

Return represents the weighted average of the total return of the most recent 12-month period, including dividends and/or any other payouts to shareholders from the underlying holdings. This means that the total return includes an average of what the investments have paid out to investors over the past year, adjusted based on the weight or size of each holding in the portfolio.

12-month period ended as of

DISCLOSURES & DISCLAIMERS

About Sprout Asset Management (Asia) Limited
Sprout Asset Management (Asia) Limited ("SAML"), of 6F, 6/F, Yardley Commercial Building, 3 Connaught Road West, Hong Kong, is incorporated in Hong Kong and holds Type 1 (dealing in securities), Type 4 (advising on securities), Type 6 (advising on corporate finance) and Type 9 (asset management) licences issued by the Hong Kong Securities and Futures Commission (CE No. BDW665).

Professional investors only
SAML offers and provides services only to investors that it has assessed and verified to be institutional professional investors or corporate professional investors who have passed the CPI assessment in accordance with the Code of Conduct for Persons Licensed by or Registered with the Securities and Futures Commission (the "SFC Code of Conduct"). It is the responsibility of each institutional professional investor and corporate professional investor to make its own determination and decision as to the suitability of any investment option for its particular requirements, circumstances and objectives, and SAML offers no advice on the selection of any investment strategy or solution, or its suitability for any particular investor. Nothing in this document shall be construed as being offered or available to or suitable for any entity or person which is not an institutional professional investor or corporate professional investor who have passed the CPI assessment (as defined in the SFC Code of Conduct).

General information only
Information provided on this document is general in nature and does not constitute financial or investment advice. Nor does it constitute an offer of, recommendation or solicitation for any investment product. It is intended only for general information purposes for licensed financial intermediaries, licensed investment managers or advisers, or qualified institutional or corporate professional investors. Past performance is no guarantee of future results. The value and income derived from investments may go down as well as up.

No representation of accuracy
SAML has taken reasonable care in providing this information. However, information can change without notice and SAML does not guarantee the completeness or accuracy of the information on this document at any particular point in time. No express or implied representation, guarantee or warranty is made as to the accuracy, completeness or timeliness of the information contained herein, and SAML expressly disclaims any and all liability based, in whole or in part, on any information contained herein, errors therein or omissions therefrom.

Illustrative examples only
The investment strategies described in this document are provided by way of hypothetical example for illustrative and reference purposes only, and may be subject to change at any time without notice. SAML makes no representation that any of these investment strategies represents an investment portfolio that is currently in existence or implementation, or that it has any formal agreements or arrangements in place that allow it to provide any particular investment strategy or solution at any point in time.

No representation of suitability
No information provided on any investment strategy or solution should be construed as being specific to the investment objectives, financial situation or particular needs of any investor. SAML makes no representation that a "managed account" is suitable for any investor by comparison to any other alternative investment structure, vehicle or methodology. SAML takes no responsibility for the suitability of any particular portfolio or investment for any specific investor, and does not provide advice on the selection of any investment strategy offered on the SAML platform, which is solely the responsibility and decision of the relevant investor or its external advisers, and should be based on their own specific circumstances and objectives.

No offer or solicitation
Nothing in this document shall be construed as an offer, solicitation, advice or recommendation to enter into any contract, transaction or arrangement of any kind with SAML or any other party, or as providing any advice to buy or sell any securities or other investments. Nor shall any securities or investments of any nature be construed as being offered or sold to any person in any jurisdiction in which an offer, solicitation, purchase or sale would be unlawful under the securities laws of that jurisdiction.

Nothing in this document is directed at or intended for distribution or publication to or use by, any person or entity who is a citizen or resident of, or located in, any jurisdiction in which the direction, distribution, publication or use of any material contained herein would be contrary to any applicable law or regulation, or which would subject SAML nor any of its contractors to any additional registration or licensing requirements in respect of that jurisdiction.

Third Party Relationships
SAML has entered into and proposes in the future to enter into certain arrangements and agreements with WealthRyse Holdings (Hong Kong) Co., Limited ("WR") under which WR provides services and information to SAML for the purposes of assisting it to provide investment portfolios on the SAML platform. WR may also have other relationships with other entities, including HedgeSPA Private Limited.

Investment risks
Past performance is not indicative of future performance and is no guide to future returns. The value of investments and the income from them is not guaranteed and can fall as well as rise due to stock market and currency movements. When investments are sold, the investor may get back less than the original investment amount. No investment strategy or risk management technique can guarantee returns or eliminate risks in any market environment. Certain portfolios may invest in emerging markets. It should be noted that these markets have additional risks associated with local custody and registration practices that may be less developed than more mature markets.

Taxation considerations
Tax treatment of any investments and resulting returns will depend on the individual circumstances of the investor, and may be subject to change in the future. Investors are recommended to obtain their own independent tax advice from a suitably qualified tax professional.
